Extend your summer beneath the palms at the Ritz-Carlton Montreal

All proceeds will go to the MIMC Foundation

On October 29, attend the Montreal International Musical Competition Foundation's benefit event, and extend your summer—champagne glass in hand—beneath the enchanting vaulted ceiling of the Ritz-Carlton Montreal's Palm Court.

Throughout this event—which promises a wealth of exciting encounters, flavours, and music—you will have the opportunity to acquire several exclusive lots: never-before-seen works of art, picturesque trips and premier packages, rare wines in exceptional sizes, and many other treasures will be on offer in the silent or live auction, in a festive atmosphere spiced up with a few surprises.

A taste of the lots on offer: a stay at the Fogo Island Inn, gourmet dinner at Daniel in New York, condo in Whistler...

All profits raised at this event hosted by Marie-Claude Lavallée will go to the Montreal International Musical Competition (MIMC) Foundation. Founded in 2002, the MIMC aims to boost the careers of exceptionally talented young singers, violinists, and pianists. The event draws thousands of spectators, in performance halls and online, each year.

To highlight the next edition of the MIMC, dedicated to violin, which will take place from May 23 to June 3, 2016, prodigious 18-year-old violinist Kerson Leong—named a Radio-Canada classical Revelation in 2014-2015—will give a short recital. He is sure to dazzle you with his incredible proficiency and his magnificent Stradivarius!
